DOUBLE SEAT TRAINER PLANE OF UNIQUE SHAPE,

Do 335 A-12

COMING AT YOU!

TOTAL PARTS: 381

4 MAIN POINTS OF SWS 1/32 Do 335 A-12

- 1 A thorough investigation on the differences between the mass-produced A-12, double-seat trainer plane, and the early-produced A-0, single-seat bomber! Build the SWS kit and you can learn about the Do 335 transition!
- 2 The lump-like outstanding outer shape due to the addition of the backseat perfectly reproduced with its internal structure! A stronger, impressive "Amelsenbär" (Am bear)!
- 3 The highlight of the double-seat version is the cockpit! The instrument panel added to the backseat for the instructor, is equipped with only minimal instrumentation. It seems like you can hear the communication between trainer and trainee during the flight.
- 4 No detail uncovered, even the smallest ones! The square panel for engine inspection (behind the backseat canopy, on the right side of the fuselage) or the foothold to get in/off (under the left side of the fuselage), all the functioning structure reproduced in high detail!
